Description about the Consultancy:

In our consultancy work entitled "Design and Analysis of catalytic converter". First of all, we decide the exact dimensions, inlet properties of catalytic converter. Then we start the 2D part diagram of catalytic converter by using modeling software, finally assemble all the part in assembly models. Finally analysis part is completed with the help of analysis software.

Description about the Consultancy:

A hydraulic lift table raises and lowers when hydraulic fluid is forced into or out of the hydraulic cylinder(s). As hydraulic fluid is forced into a cylinder, the cylinder strokes outward forcing the scissor legs apart. Hydraulic scissor lifts are a cost-effective and durable machine that uses an electric motor or other power sources to pressurize hydraulics to lift a payload. It typically consists of a sturdy base, a platform for the load, a configuration of scissor legs, a hydraulic cylinder, and a power source or motor.

Description about the Consultancy:

The project entitled "Web based traveller management system" has been developed under Microsoft ASP.Net as front end and MS-SQL Server 2008 as back end. The coding language used is VB.Net. The main aim of the consultancy work is describing the necessary places for customer on selected cities. The application contains the additional option that is the places where we are going within the sri vathiyar travels website. It is also giving an additional option for customer to save their memories of the travel with photo gallery. So customer can login anytime and they can see those memories. The project contains administrator, customer and feedback modules.

Description about the Consultancy:

The Project System for Medical Store Management has an easy to interface and is built with respected customer service to allow stock maintenance, database access and electronic documentation for billing purposes. The program also encourages consumer computing discounts, frequent revenue, and identifies measures to avoid possible loss of revenue. Our system mainly deals with different type of Medical item, customer, dealer very easily. Since we had time constraints we were not able to make out module into live and living portal but would try for the same together with the interference.

The Medical Store Management System Project in Python is created using python programming language. Medical Store Management System consists of a Python Script (main.py) and a database file. This python projects with source code for Medical Store Management System is primarily based on Tkinter. This system has a graphical user interface applied by using the Python programming language and SQLite3.
