Welcome to Nandha Engineering College Library (NECL)

After advent of computer and internet, it is likely to access information resources from everywhere at any time. Internet is used as an efficient medium for selecting, retrieving, storing of information sources worldwide. It provides various information resources such as e-books, e-journals, e-magazines, e-thesis/dissertations, dictionaries, directories, databases, search engines, and professional bodies.

There are three types of online resources available based on the mode of access through internet such as open access (free), semi open access (some of them free), and closed access (payable) in all disciplines. This website provides the open access online information resources and services especially in engineering and technology.

"Ten years of experience lead us to reaffirm the definition of open access introduced in the original Budapest Open Access Initiative: By "open access" to [peer-reviewed research literature], we mean its free availability on the public internet, permitting any users to read, download, copy, distribute, print.

National Digital Library

About

Ministry of Human Resource Development under its National Mission on Education through Information and Communication Technology has initiated the National Digital Library (NDL) pilot project to develop a framework of virtual repository of learning resources with a single-window search facility. Filtered and federated searching is employed to facilitate focused searching so that learners can find out the right resource with least effort and in minimum time.

NDL is designed to hold content of any language and provides interface support for leading vernacular languages (currently Hindi and Bengali). It is being arranged to provide support for all academic levels including researchers and life-long learners, all disciplines, all popular form of access devices and differently-abled learners. It is being developed to help students to prepare for entrance and competitive examination, to enable people to learn and prepare from best practices from all over the world and to facilitate researchers to perform inter-linked exploration from multiple sources.

The pilot project is devising a framework suitable for future scale up with respect to content volume and diversity to become a full-blown National Digital Library of India over time. It is being developed at IIT Kharagpur.

You can access their information sources after registration and Web application is also available for accessing through Smart phone.
