Converting Prototype into a Startup

The Institution's Innovation Council (IIC) and Department of Civil Engineering, Nandha Engineering College (ICI-NEC) had arranged a Session on "Start-up Opportunities in Civil Engineering" on 29th September, 2023. The session was engaged by Er.N.Rajkumar, Assistant Engineer, Tamil Nadu Pollution Control Board. The discussion was about the start-up opportunities in construction industry and gave a clear idea on the startup landscape within civil engineering, identifying key areas of innovation, challenges, and opportunities for entrepreneurs. Startups play a vital role in driving innovation, economic growth, and job creation in various industries. While the journey of building a startup is challenging and uncertain, successful startups have the potential to make a significant impact on society and generate substantial returns for their founders and investors. Converting a prototype into a startup involves several key steps to transition from an initial concept or idea to a full-fledged business and requires dedication, perseverance, and strategic planning.
